Monthly comment

After a strong recovery in Q4 last year, which saw the Partners Group Listed Investments SICAV - Listed Infrastructure Fund increase by over 10%, the fund's performance has been steady in January 2024. The Fund has continued to outperform its benchmark by around 100 bps, while global equity markets have rebounded, led by the strong technology sector. Economic indicators such as the US Q4 GDP growth of 3.3% and improving consumer sentiment have been positive, although the Fed has kept rates unchanged for now and hinted at potential rate cuts in the future. The ECB has also maintained rates at 4%. At the portfolio level, the renewables, US waste operators, and toll roads have performed well, whilst social infrastructure and communication towers have underperformed during the month.

The best performing holding during the month was Ferrovial. The Spanish infrastructure operator, is in the process of listing its shares on the Nasdaq stock exchange, in addition to its Madrid and Amsterdam listings. The company's move to list on the Nasdaq is part of its strategic plan to increase investments in the US and appeal to international investors. Moreover, Ferrovial recently received a double-digit hike in its tolls for the ETR 407 highway in Canada, exceeding expectations, which is expected to significantly contribute to its future financial performance.

On the other hand, China Resources Gas, a Chinese gas utility, experienced weak performance in January as the country is still working towards recovery from the downturn in the property market, affecting revenue from new gas connections. Although valuations of these utilities have become very attractive, their growth is expected to rely on the recovery of gas demand in 2024.

Finally, Sabesp performed well in January. The Brazilian water operator was recently added to the portfolio. Despite no company-specific news during the month, there are growing expectations about the improvement in regulatory structures within Brazil's water sector. Furthermore, it is anticipated that the Sao Paulo state will sell its stake in the company later this year, which could act as a major catalyst for unlocking operational efficiencies at the company.
