Monthly comment

In May, GDP-sensitive stocks profited from the easing of trade tensions between the US and China within Partners Group Listed Investments SICAV – Listed Infrastructure. Especially, railway operators and waste management companies increased on the back of this development.

One of the top performers during the month was the US railway operator Union Pacific. The company reported a volume growth of 2% for the past quarter compared to Q1 2017. Furthermore, the company made progress in reducing its operating ratio. The growing freight volumes in the railroad sector were also one of the reasons for the positive performance of Canadian National. Overall, the railroad sector benefited from the positive economic momentum and better prospects of raising prices above cost inflation, due to shortage of truck capacity.

Meanwhile, the positive performance was partially offset by the political uncertainty in Italy. This resulted, in the view of the asset manager, to an overreaction on the European stock markets. Elsewhere, the Brazilian water and waste management company Sabesp, reported results below expectations, which led to a decline in the share price.

Finally, the shares of the Canadian pipeline operator Enbridge showed a positive performance during the reporting month. The company reported promising Q1 results and made further progress on its deleveraging target. Market participants also welcomed the fact that Enbridge wants to consolidate its four subsidiaries in order to reduce the complexity of its corporate structure.

Definitions

This monthly report is produced based on information available on the last working day of the month.

Infrastructure

The term 'infrastructure' comprises all durable capital goods which ensure the proper development of an economy. They comprise transportation infrastructure assets such as roads, airports, railways, harbours, tunnels and bridges. However, they also include assets of the communication infrastructure, such as TV and radio transmission systems, antennas and transmission towers for mobile phones, satellite systems and cable networks. Infrastructure also refers to utility assets in the fields of energy and water, such as energy facilities for power generation and distribution, of gas and oil exploration and distribution, as well as other water supply and distribution facilities, including desalination plants and sewage treatment facilities. Finally, infrastructure also includes the provision of services in the fields of education and health, as well as public sector building facilities (social infrastructure).

Listed infrastructure

A 'listed infrastructure' company is listed on a stock exchange and its purpose is investing in infrastructure assets.

Total return

Total return is calculated according the standard BVI-method of the Bundesverband Investment and Asset Management.
