Monthly comment

In October, Partners Group Listed Investments SICAV - Listed Infrastructure performed well as global equity markets recovered strongly during the month. Though inflation is proving to be stickier, the market broadly shrugged those concerns, and delivered a healthy return. Furthermore, many companies in the listed infrastructure portfolio posted solid Q3 performance numbers, which drove their increase in value during October. The recovery was also broad-based as nearly all infrastructure sub-sectors delivered positive returns with North American railroads and US waste operators being the best performers.

One of the best performing companies within the portfolio was Union Pacific. The largest listed North American railroad operator posted Q3 results ahead of expectations, even though it guided to soft volumes, mainly due to congestions at the US West Coast ports. However, towards the end of the month, the company provided a positive update that it will increase capacity, including taking on extra carloads over the weekends to ease congestion across the ports. This should also provide some upside to volume growth.

Another strong performer was Republic Services ("RSG"), a provider of waste disposal in the US. RSG had a solid Q3, with results well above expectations, and the company also increased guidance for this year. Encouragingly, the company posted its highest M&A activity to date, indicating strong appetite for consolidation in a largely fragmented industry, with further increase expected next year. Core pricing increase was comfortably above inflation, and volume growth recovered to help drive the company's share price during the month.

Finally, the diversified Spanish infrastructure operator Ferrovial also contributed positively. The share price performance was strong, largely driven by the news of the divestiture of its Spanish infrastructure maintenance business. Moreover, its new investment in an Indian toll road operator, IRB Infrastructure, to acquire a c. 25% stake in the company and build exposure to the rapidly expanding sector in the country, contributed to the stock performance. However, Q3 results were rather soft, impacted mainly by the low airport passenger numbers.
