Monthly comment

In July, the Partners Group Listed Investments SICAV - Listed Infrastructure continued to increase in value roughly in line with global equity markets, but outperforming its benchmark. Overall, equity markets rose strongly in July on the back of a series of dovish comments on rates by the Fed and ECB further stimulating the global economy. Meanwhile, Brazilian stocks were particularly robust as the government was able to make progress on the country's pension reform and further improvements are to be expected in the second half of 2019.

On a portfolio level, all three Brazilian stocks enjoyed a strong rally in July. Next to the advancement regarding the country's pension reform, Sabesp's strong performance was further boosted by company specific news. The water and waste company continued its impressive performance (approx. +75% YTD) as the Sao Paulo government has publicly reiterated the view that the privatization would be the best option, should the Brazilian government pass a bill that allows more private investment in the water and sanitation sector.

Moreover, the French satellite operator Eutelsat performed well in July as the company reported solid financial figures for FY 2018-19. Especially, the progress on its cost cutting program combined with its highest ever EBITDA margin, reduced leverage, the announcement of a new share buyback program as well as increased free cash flow guidance for 2020-21 by roughly 25%, led to the company's positive share price development.

Finally, the largest US railroad company Union Pacific (UNP) and the Canadian National Railway (CNR) company both recorded a positive month. While the sector of North American railroads displayed a rather mixed month with two big players CSX Transportation and Norfolk Southern Railway reporting weaker than expected results, both portfolio companies UNP and CNR bucked the trend as they made solid progress on improving EBITDA margins, despite the volume growth expected to be moderate this year.
