Monthly comment

In July, Partners Group Listed Investments SICAV – Listed Infrastructure increased in value. Positive earnings announcements were the main performance driver during the reporting period. Further, Brazilian, Chinese and UK infrastructure operators were also able to recover from their lows in the past month. On a sectoral basis, waste management as well as railway operators performed well.

For instance, Canadian National Railway has been a positive performer. The Canadian railway operator published favorable earnings development in July. Its semi-annual revenues were above estimates and cargo volume increased year-on-year. The company also raised guidance for earnings for the financial year 2018.

The strongest performer this month has been John Laing Infrastructure, a diversified infrastructure investment vehicle with focus on social infrastructure assets. The company's share price rose, driven by news about a buyout offer from an asset manager. This offer represents roughly a 20% premium to John Laing's closing price before the announcement.

Another positive contributor to the Fund's performance was the Chinese airport operator Beijing Capital International. Passenger growth remained positive during the past months and the company announced that it could take up operational duties at the second airport, without having to make any financial commitment for the project.

Finally, Cellnex provided positive results for the first half-year. The European tower operator reported an acceleration in revenues and EBITDA growth, representing an increase of +14.7% respectively +21.7% for the first quarter year-on-year. For the full year, the company confirms the positive outlook.

Definitions

This monthly report is produced based on information available on the last working day of the month.

Infrastructure

The term 'infrastructure' comprises all durable capital goods which ensure the proper development of an economy. They comprise transportation infrastructure assets such as roads, airports, railways, harbours, tunnels and bridges. However, they also include assets of the communication infrastructure, such as TV and radio transmission systems, antennas and transmission towers for mobile phones, satellite systems and cable networks. Infrastructure also refers to utility assets in the fields of energy and water, such as energy facilities for power generation and distribution, of gas and oil exploration and distribution, as well as other water supply and distribution facilities, including desalination plants and sewage treatment facilities. Finally, infrastructure also includes the provision of services in the fields of education and health, as well as public sector building facilities (social infrastructure).

Listed infrastructure

A 'listed infrastructure' company is listed on a stock exchange and its purpose is investing in infrastructure assets.

Total return

Total return is calculated according the standard BVI-method of the Bundesverband Investment and Asset Management.
