Monthly comment

In October, the Partners Group Listed Investments SICAV - Listed Infrastructure continued its good performance, while broader equity markets also had a positive month. Primarily driven by the Fed's third time rate cut this year, the possibility of a partial trade deal between the US and China, and a possible Brexit deal between the UK and Europe, several equity markets indices reached record levels during the reporting period.

One of the strongest performers this month was China Resources Gas with a YTD performance of now roughly 50%. The share price experienced a strong rally in the second half of October due to new gas pipelines from Russia into China, which should significantly alleviate the currently tight gas supply market.

However, the US utility company Edison International contributed negatively to the Fund's performance. New wildfires in different regions in California have had a negative impact on the electric utilities in the state. Edison's service territory is impacted by one of the fires and Edison frequently has to shut off power to parts of the population, drawing heavy criticism from politicians.

Finally, another top performer was Beijing Capital International. Following the opening of the new airport in the South of Beijing (Beijing Daxing Airport) and more clarity on the transfer of airlines from Beijing Capital International Airport as well as some relaxation of airspace restrictions, the company strongly rebounded from low valuation levels. Furthermore, the company should benefit from new airspace routes and procedures.

Definitions

This monthly report is produced based on information available on the last working day of the month.

Infrastructure

The term 'infrastructure' comprises all durable capital goods which ensure the proper development of an economy. They comprise transportation infrastructure assets such as roads, airports, railways, harbours, tunnels and bridges. However, they also include assets of the communication infrastructure, such as TV and radio transmission systems, antennas and transmission towers for mobile phones, satellite systems and cable networks. Infrastructure also refers to utility assets in the fields of energy and water, such as energy facilities for power generation and distribution, of gas and oil exploration and distribution, as well as other water supply and distribution facilities, including desalination plants and sewage treatment facilities. Finally, infrastructure also includes the provision of services in the fields of education and health, as well as public sector building facilities (social infrastructure).

Listed infrastructure

A 'listed infrastructure' company is listed on a stock exchange and its purpose is investing in infrastructure assets.

Total return

Total return is calculated according the standard BVI-method of the Bundesverband Investment and Asset Management.
