Monthly comment

During May, global equity markets were mainly driven by macroeconomic factors, in particular expectations about inflation and interest rates. In this challenging environment, the Partners Group Listed Investments SICAV – Listed Private Equity developed positively. The alternative asset managers performed best, benefitting from stabilizing US interest rates and strong results throughout the Q1 reporting season whereas the business development companies, which tend to have floating rate portfolios, were negatively affected and performed weakly. The US asset manager Apollo Global Management was amongst the top performers. The company benefitted from improving sentiment towards higher growth companies and solid results for the first quarter. After merging with its insurance business, Athene, recurring earnings tripled and, more importantly, fundraising as well as deployments increased substantially, dispelling concerns about a potential slowdown. Compared to Q4 2021, which was a record quarter, inflows and deployments increased by 31% and 39%, respectively. In contrast, the US business development company Owl Rock, was amongst the weakest performers. The company reported modest results including a declining NAV, driven by credit spread widening, and a small reduction in net investment income, primarily due to lower prepayment fees as refinancing conditions worsened. Despite that, management remained very optimistic, highlighting the portfolio's high credit quality and strong dividend coverage. Finally, TPG, a US alternative asset management firm with approximately USD 120 billion in assets under management, convinced investors. The company reported strong results for Q1 2022, having increased assets under management, which resulted in fee-related earnings growth of approximately 90% compared to the previous quarter. Deployments and fundraising remained strong. Furthermore, TPG launched a new strategy and raised more than USD 7 billion for the first vintage of the Rise Climate Fund. Management maintains a positive outlook for 2022, as they will be in the market with three flagship funds, targeting USD 24 billion.
