Monthly comment

In November, the Partners Group Listed Investments SICAV - Listed Private Equity Fund recorded one of its best monthly performances since inception and increased by 15% (EUR). The remarkable performance can be attributed to two main factors; firstly, positive company-specific news, and secondly, favorable macroeconomic developments particularly the softening of yields for the long-dated US and European sovereign bonds on the back of weakening inflation data. Investors have already started anticipating rate-cuts by the Federal Reserve in the first half of next year, signalling the end of the current rate hike cycle. The US economy remains resilient with Q3 GDP figures revised upwards to 5.2% and strong levels of consumer activity and investment growth.

KKR, the US alternative asset manager, was the top-performing holding in November, driven by the news around the full acquisition of Global Atlantic. With assets under management totaling USD 158 billion, the life annuity specialist will provide KKR with great growth potential and an opportunity to quickly expand its credit business. Additionally, KKR can leverage Global Atlantic's distribution channels to enhance positioning in private wealth. Another catalyst for KKR, as well as Apollo Global, another strong performer during November, is a potential inclusion in the S&P 500, as both candidates are eligible to join the index.

The Canadian investment manager, Onex Corporation, had a strong month as well. The company delivered solid results, with a 4% growth in its private equity portfolio during the quarter, the successful completion of its 28th Collateralized Loan Obligation, and an increase in assets under management and fee income. Moreover, the company has implemented a significant share buyback program of up to 10% of its current market capitalization, while also making progress in cutting costs.

Finally, Eurazeo has recently declared a significant strategic shift that targets a return of 45% of its current market capitalization to shareholders through dividends and share repurchases within the next three years. This decision paves the way for the company to move from being a balance sheet focused investor to an alternative asset manager and is expected to be highly accretive given the shares currently trade at a wide discount to the Net Asset Value.
