Monthly comment

In April, global equity markets continued to perform well as the vaccine rollout picked up further and some countries started to ease lockdown restrictions. Partners Group Listed Investments SICAV – Listed Private Equity increased in value on the back of strong earnings results and a positive market sentiment. All sectors contributed positively to the Fund's development with alternative asset managers being once again the best performer.

Blackstone achieved the highest increase in value this month after reporting quarterly results above expectations. The US alternative asset manager reached USD 649 billion in assets under management, a new record and an increase of 21% year-over-year. The company benefited from high deployments, successful exits of portfolio companies such as Bumble and Acrisure as well as a favourable portfolio development. The corporate private equity portfolio appreciated by 15.3% in the quarter, increasing the net accrued carry interest to over USD 5 billion.

Another positive contributor was the direct investment company NB Private Equity Partners. The company reported positive results and recorded NAV growth of 8.1% for the first quarter. Management is taking advantage of the current exit environment and partially realized several holdings in March, including positions in publicly traded Uber and Vertiv. In addition, the company announced further exits, which are expected to generate a 13% uplift to the current NAV.
