Monthly comment

In July, market sentiment remained positive, supported by a decline in developed country inflation and robust GDP data. As a result, global stocks exhibited strong performance even though both the Federal Reserve and the European Central Bank increased rates. The start into the earnings season proved to be positive, as most companies across broader equity market indices and the listed private equity segment posted results that either met or exceeded expectations. Amid this favorable market environment, the Partners Group Listed Investments SICAV - Listed Private Equity Fund witnessed a strong growth, driven by positive contributions from all sectors. Alternative asset managers, in particular, stood out as the top performers. The market outlook continued to improve, fostering further optimism, which ultimately resulted in higher valuation multiples.

The Swedish alternative asset manager EQT emerged as the top-performing company during the month, reporting second-quarter results that surpassed expectations. The company showcased robust fundraising, with its fee-paying assets under management growing by 64% compared to the previous year. During the first half of the year, the company experienced a significant increase in transaction activity, primarily driven by infrastructure investments. Furthermore, EQT's flagship funds performed consistently well, either meeting or exceeding expectations, which supports the fundraising outlook as both strategies are currently in the market raising successor funds.

In contrast, Kinnevik, the Swedish direct investment company experienced a weak month. The company's Q2 results were mixed: Net Asset Value decreased by 2.5%, primarily due to multiple contraction, but investment activity increased substantially year-over-year. The company took advantage of weaker market conditions and invested SEK 2.2 billion in several existing businesses, including Spring Health, a high-conviction holding that performs strongly. The remaining portfolio companies are also on plan and reported high revenue growth. Lastly, Kinnevik benefits from a strong balance sheet with SEK 9 billion of net cash and is well positioned to navigate through the challenging market conditions.

Ultimately, Blackstone, the US alternative asset manager, emerged as another strong performer during this period, benefiting from the improved market sentiment and the anticipation of being included in the S&P 500. The company's Q2 results were mixed but in line with expectations. Notably, Blackstone became the first alternative asset manager to reach the milestone of managing over USD 1 trillion in assets.
