Monthly comment

In November, the performance of Partners Group Listed Investments SICAV - Listed Income was slightly positive, as opposed to the very strong performance of the global equity markets, primarily driven by the prevailing risk-on mode among investors. Meanwhile, the US and China seem to be working towards the phase one trade agreement, which helped the equity market. The Fund's performance was behind the benchmark, attributable to its greater exposure to defensive stocks including infrastructure, especially utilities, and REITs as well as its allocation to bonds.

Alternative asset managers continued to rally, with Ares Management being the top performer on a YTD basis, on the back of the latest earnings release in the beginning of the month. The Company increased fee related earnings by 13% compared to last quarter and the fund raising and deployment were healthy.

Senior Housing Properties was the worst performer in the month. The US real estate trust missed consensus due to higher than expected expenses and a delay in divestment plan. The delay adversely affected the sentiment as the proceeds were planned to use to lower the Company's leverage.

Furthermore, Enbridge, the Canadian energy transportation company, has contributed positively to the performance of the Fund. Despite the current challenges for the sector, the company announced their solid Q3 results, leading to the favorable stock movement. Among others, EBITDA was ahead of consensus by 4% and is most likely to strike the upper end of 2019 guidance.
