Monthly comment

Global equity markets rebounded strongly in July, clawing back some of their losses from the first half of 2022. Investors have taken comfort in recent days from the idea that slowing economic growth might encourage the Fed to raise rates at a slower clip, following the July's 75 basis points increase. Against this backdrop, Partners Group Listed Investments SICAV - Multi Asset Income increased in value, primarily attributable to the strong contributions from US asset managers and REITs, which underperformed other sectors on a YTD basis still.

The alternative asset manager Ares Management was one of the best performing companies in the portfolio. The company, among the largest debt-focused managers, reported a strong set of results during the month. Inflows, capital deployments and investment performance were all above expectations. Management is also quite positive on 2022 fundraising expecting to have more than 25 different funds in the market. The company reiterated the long-term target to reach USD 500 billion of AUM by 2025, which would lead to a >20% CAGR in fee-related earnings and dividends.

Finally, the Swedish real-estate company, Castellum AB, managed to reduce investors' concerns after its 2Q earnings announcement. Castellum's 2Q22 results were positive with an increase in occupancy, like-for-like rental income, as well as leasing volume. Earlier, the company fell more than other REITs due to the short debt maturity and refinancing concerns, so some of the recovery might be driven by the attractive valuation.
