Monthly comment

In April, the Partners Group Listed Investments SICAV - Multi Asset Income rose 3.2%, with healthy contributions from all three asset classes. Private Equity experienced a very strong month on the back of US asset managers. Real Estate has seen positive inflow in April, narrowing the valuation gap with other sectors. By geography, the US market outperformed, on the back of the revised 2021 GDP growth and accelerating vaccination rates, as well as the USD two trillion stimulus package.

Blackstone was the best performer this month, reporting solid 1Q results. The alternative asset manager increased total AUM to USD 649 billion, an increase of 21% year-over-year. Deployments, realizations, and portfolio performance were also strong. During the first quarter, the private equity flagship strategy increased by more than 15% and drove net accrued carry to over USD 5 billion.

In contrast, renewables were overall weak with a fall in the last week despite positive news flows as several countries announced the acceleration of long-term targets to decarbonize in a virtual Climate Summit in April. Orsted contributed negatively even though it was able to win onshore wind assets and monetize operational assets. The fall was largely attributable to the view that the growth target might be difficult to achieve.

Finally, shares of Prologis, the US logistics REIT, were buoyed by solid 1Q results reported on 19 April. Funds from operations (FFO) per share beat consensus, and Prologis increased its FY21 Core FFO guidance midpoint on the back of positive Like-for-like Net Operating Income growth. In addition, its development pipeline ended the quarter with healthy 57% pre-leased, highlighting the challenge for tenants to find space in the market recently.
