Monthly comment

In August, the Partners Group Listed Investments SICAV - Multi Asset Income eased in value in a challenging environment. Nevertheless the Fund performed much better than the benchmark. The larger market movements can primarily be explained by the continuing trade concerns between the US and China. Furthermore, the German economy reported weak growth as well as order intakes slowed down.

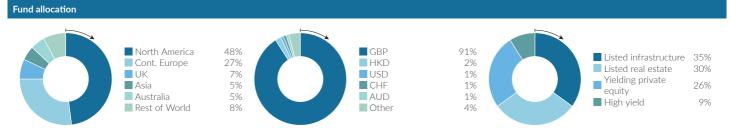

One of the strongest companies in the portfolio this month was Ferrovial. The Spanish infrastructure company reported good H1 2019 results despite weak performance in the construction unit. Additionally, in August the company won an extension road project in Texas for approximately USD 800m.

On the other hand, the Hong Kong-based diversified infrastructure operator Cheung Kong Infrastructure ("CKI") contributed negatively to the Fund's performance. One of the main drivers of the negative development were the ongoing protests in Hong Kong, although a majority of earnings were outside Hong Kong and China. On top of that, CKI has material exposure to UK water, where regulated returns are expected to be cut in the future.
