Monthly comment

In April, equity markets recovered sharply after one of the weakest quarters in over a decade in Q1. The recovery and shift in the sentiment were largely attributable to the unprecedented fiscal support programs announced by various governments, monetary stimulus by central banks, and expectation of partial reopening of a few economies in Europe and the U.S. in May. During this month Partners Group Listed Investments SICAV - Multi Asset Income posted a 6.9% gain, helped by the strong share performance of energy, BDCs, and MREITs, which had underperformed until March.

The best performing company this month was Williams, driven by the improve supply/demand dynamics helped by the current low oil price. In addition, the company expressed confidence in retaining its ability to maintain dividend. This was reassuring for investors who believed that Williams may be forced to cut dividend after yield jumped to nearly 20% last month.

BDC companies were another beneficiaries during the reporting period. The outperformance was largely driven by the Fed's USD 2.3 trillion program to support the US economy. In particular, Solar Capital outperformed other BDCs due to its low leverage, sufficient liquidity, 100% investment in 1st liens, as well as smaller exposure to the virus-affected sectors.

Additionally, the Fund was also positively affected by the rebound of Annaly Capital Management which has partially recovered from its recent loss. The company primarily benefitted from the stabilised short-term funding market in the U.S., as well as a relatively smaller cut in book value and stable dividend guidance compared to peers.
