Monthly comment

Overall, volatility persisted during March and major equity market indices ended the first quarter of the year with significant negative returns, primarily driven by future interest rate hikes, rising inflation, as well as the geopolitical event in eastern Europe. Meanwhile, the equity markets started recovering the loss partially towards the end of the month, underpinned by a series of peace talks between Ukraine and Russia. A fall in oil prices also helped. Against this backdrop, the Partners Group Listed Investments SICAV – Multi Asset Income performed well, primarily driven by Infrastructure and Real Estate.

One of the best performers was Apax Global Alpha ("APAX"), a direct investment company focusing on growth firms. APAX published strong full year 2021 results. During 2021, the company's NAV increased by 28.7%, mainly driven by a combination of operating improvements in portfolio companies, earnings growth, and a supportive valuation environment. Especially, APAX's Private Equity portfolio capitalized on the favorable valuation environment to exit companies. Of the 15 private equity portfolio companies that were either exited or went public in 2021, APAX generated a strong average gross realized multiple of 4.5x and a gross IRR of 54.1%. In addition, the company significantly increased its dividend. Furthermore, management sounded optimistic for the year and expects operational improvements at portfolio companies to be the main growth driver for 2022.

Another top performer was Prologis, the US logistics REIT. The share price rebounded strongly in March on the back of positive news. Most notably, Prologis made an offer above EUR 21 billion for Blackstone's European warehouse portfolio, which would double the company's portfolio in Europe by square feet. Also, Prologis has decided to raise annual dividend by 25% in late February, which also helped the investor sentiment.
